

FLORA ROBERTS

Flora Roberts is an interiors muralist and artist who loves to capture the natural forms of blossoms and foliage in paint. But she has also collaborated with top fabric and wallpaper houses such as Zoffany, Sanderson and Lewis & Wood to create some much-loved designs, for instance, Doves for Lewis & Wood. Increasingly, her work is being recognised at a high level in its own right. She was recently invited to design a tablecloth for a Goop event hosted by actress Gwyneth Paltrow, and to hand-paint glass lampshades with motifs referencing a specially commissioned de Gournay wallpaper for Fortnum & Mason's Diamond Jubilee Tea Salon. She has also created exquisite panels for a bedroom scheme by K&H Design. Her atmospheric, sometimes ethereal artwork has a growing fanbase – including our Editor-in-Chief.

RIGHT Hand-painted panels for K&H Design.
FAR RIGHT, TOP Flora Roberts' painting of a bunch of dahlias. FAR RIGHT Tablecloth design for an event hosted by Gwyneth Paltrow for Goop.

